

Procedure for completing the Tanzania visa application form

- Print the form from the website, one per person. http://www.distinctive-destinations.workzsites.com/f/Tanzania_visa_application_form.pdf
- You will need two passport photos, per person.
- For each person, you'll need a Money Order for $100. Make out the money order to "Tanzania Embassy"
- Enclose a copy of the itinerary.
- You'll need to submit a copy of the invoice/receipt showing final payment of the safari.
- Also enclose a copy of your airline ticket. The electronic receipt from your airline is all that is needed.
- You'll be submitting your actual passport. It needs to be signed, valid for 7 months after the date you leave the country, and have empty visa pages. (Note: don't count the amendment pages at the back of your passport; these aren't visa pages.)
- You'll want to send this in a trackable form. That is, either a private service (Fed Ex, UPS, etc.) or using the U.S. Post Office with a way of proving that it was received. (Note: the U.S. Post Office certified mail system isn't reliable.)
- You'll also want to enclose a way that the Tanzania Consulate can return the passport to you, and already have the envelope marked for trackable delivery with prepaid postage.
- Make a copy of a bank statement (either checking or savings) where you have a bunch of money. Circle the balance, and enclose that. (They need to know that you have sufficient funds here in the U.S. that you won't want to overstay your visa in Tanzania—that you'll want to come back to the U.S. for your money.)
- Now, for the actual form:
 - Questions one through seven: as appropriate
